

WORKSHOP

Careers, open science and publishing. What's in it for researchers?

23. Mai 2017

13.00 – 17.00

With Dr. Daniel Staemmler, Executive Publisher Health & Medical Sciences
Eva Podgoršek, Consultant Research Platforms Academic & Government
Dr. Claudia Sellke, Account Manager Academic & Government

Careers outside of research: What do publishers do?

13.00 – 14.30

Publishers as employers: Exploring the workings and career perspectives at a publishing company

What do publishers do?
Which jobs exist in publishing?
How to choose your career path: academia or publishing field?

This is an interactive session. Participants will be divided into working groups of 5-6 people, and asked to take an active part in elaborating and presenting their results.

14.30 – 15.00

Let's break for coffee and some chitchat

Publishing your research paper: How does it work and how does open science come into play?

15.00 – 17.00

Under the microscope: The process of publishing papers and how open science comes into play

How does the publishing process work?
Where and how to submit a paper?
What does open science have to do with all this?
How can open science support researcher's publications?

This is an interactive session. Participants will be divided into working groups of 5-6 people, and asked to take an active part in elaborating and presenting their results.

Additional Instructions:

Please bring your laptops, smartphones and/ or tablets. We don't expect you to have all the answers, you can look up information and exchange with your peers as you go along.

Props needed:

Flipchart(s), enough paper, markers, moderation cards, pin boards, projector