

Aspects of clinical research using optical and magnetic resonance imaging

Prof. Hellmuth Obrig

- The workshop will discuss some basics of neurovascular coupling
- It will introduce non-invasive optical imaging (fNIRS, functional Near-InfraRed Spectroscopy)
- Some applications of the latter method will be discussed.
- No specific knowledge is required apart from an interest in the matter.
Participants who are/ have done fNIRS experiments are welcome to share their experience